

October 5, 2018

Hello Parents,

Wow! It is already October! Can you believe it? This first month together as a class has flown by. I have loved getting to know your students and am impressed by all of the progress that they have already been making.

It is clear that there are many great things happening at home as students share their interests and things they have learned. If there is anything your child is particularly excited about and would like to share with the class, you can send me a photo on ClassDojo for us to show the class.

Thank you,
Emily Simon

Please, if you have not already, send with your child a spare set of clothing to change into in the event of an accident. Thank you!	Please remember to send back to school each Monday the clear "Friday Folder". This allows us to file your child's work in it throughout the week so that it can come home on Friday.
